Making a Difference One Life at a Time

"Hallelujah! Salvation and glory and power belong to God" -Revelation 19:1

God fills our needs in so many ways! Gretta (not real name) was 20 years old and a single mom. Her small baby needed clothes and another community service had told her about the Pregnancy Resource Center.

She said on her in-take form that she believed in God but had no religion. The clothesline volunteer began telling Gretta about the PRC and that we were there because of what Christ did for us on the cross. As they finished gathering clothing for Gretta's little one, the PRC volunteer asked if she would like a bible. Yes, she would.

The volunteer asked Gretta if she would like to know more about Christ. She was interested. The volunteer began to walk Gretta through the Steps of Peace, telling her about sin and what God had done for our sin. She told about the need to accept Christ as her personal Savior. The volunteer gave the example of the clothing she had just received was free to her, but she had to take them. Salvation was the same. Then God prompted the PRC volunteer to ask her if she wanted to accept Christ and Gretta gave an enthusiastic YES! They prayed together and we're sure the angels shouted, "Hallelujah!"

God is so good to fill all our needs.

Thank you for your support and prayers for Gretta and women like her.

Why are we drawn to serve? What is there that makes us want to do something more? To go beyond our own little existence, to actually notice the multiple needs of others around us? I must admit there is an element of "feel good" that I indulge in. I don't think that's wrong, but it shouldn't be at the heart of our passion for service.

God has taken me to Phillipians 2:1-4 and has kept me there for the past month. His word says "if any have received encouragement from being united with Christ"....to that I say, YES!.... "if any comfort from his love"....every moment of every day.... "if any fellowship with the Spirit"....crave this.... "if any tenderness and compassion"....humbled by all He offers me.... "then"....is this the catch?.... "make my joy complete"....me be a part of your joy Lord?.... "by being like minded"....but we are all so different.... "having the same love".... this could be hard.... "being one in spirit and purpose"....being one? But how?.... "Do nothing out of selfish ambition"....ouch, I do this sometimes.... "or vain conceit"....guilty on occasion.... "but in humility"....your example is clear to me Lord.... "consider others better than yourselves."....thank you for the reminder Lord.... "Each of you"....me, you, every piece of the body of Christ.... "should look not only to your own interests but"....take care of myself but what else?.... "also to the interests of others."....God's loving command.

This scripture challenges my very core because it validates all I receive from being part of the body of Christ and one with our Lord yet calls me into action. How can I take without giving back? What blessing would I be missing out on if I chose to not go beyond my own little existence and meet the needs of others? I admit it is sometimes hard being a Christian 24/7, so I come back to the question "Why are we drawn to serve?" Each of us need to inspect our lives and answer that for ourselves. My answer? I am drawn to serve in response to the love Jesus offers me.

Malaysia Update

God has called us to care for others not only in our own communities but in other communities as well. In 2009, the Pregnancy Resource Center of Salt Lake partnered with LCMS World Relief and Human Care to open a crisis pregnancy center in Malaysia. We are grateful to your support that has brought this world mission project to fruition.

The Malaysia center is called ELCM Women's Care and Counseling Centre. Their mission is very much like our own; to care for women before, during and after their decision concerning their unplanned pregnancy. They offer support, counsel on lifestyle changes, teach the truth about abortion and share the love & forgiveness of the gospel.

LCMS World Relief and Human Care has invited our executive director, Tamara Anderson, to join their training team to train as well as encourage staff members and volunteers at the ELCM Women's Care and Counseling Centre. She will be departing November 30th and will spend a week with our friends in Malaysia.

Abortion is an issue that touches our lives locally and globally. Your support and prayers for this on-going partnership are important and we thank you.
